FOURTEEN PAGES—FIVE CENTS

U.S. Is Expecting Strong Soviet Protests In U.N. Over Bomber

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The Soviet Union is expected to make a strong diplomatic counter-attack in the Security Council to meet the United States' call for U.N. action in the shooting down of an American bomber by Russian planes.

Such a course was predicted Tuesday night by Western diplomats as the Security Council delegates prepared for a meeting to consider the case.

Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., chief U.S. delegate to the U.N. Monday night asked the council to consider "the situation arising from the unprovoked attack on a U.S. Navy plane by aircraft of the Soviet Union over international waters on Sept. 4."

50 Girls, With One On Side, Seek To Be Miss America

ALTNATIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—A smiling "Miss Connecticut" met a pouting "Miss Connecticut" at the Miss America pageant Tuesday.

But only the smiling girl is still in the beauty contest.

Fifty bathing beauties from 44 states, New York City, Chicago, District of Columbia, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and Canada trotted out on the boardwalk for the annual swim suit pictures Tuesday morning.

Everyone was happy except one blue-eyed blonde from Connecticut who stood pouting on the sidelines.

Miss Violet Fuchs, 24, former WAC from Middletown was picketing the pageant Monday, still insisting she was Miss Connecticut.

While Miss Fuchs looked on unhappy, the photographers were busy snapping pictures of the 50 contestants, one of whom was Miss Dorothy Anne Hopkins of Storrs, Conn.

Miss Hopkins, 18, a University of Connecticut coed, is the only Miss Connecticut recognized by pageant officials.

Miss Fuchs, named Miss Connecticut in a beauty contest not sanctioned by pageant officials, said she plans more protests against being left out in the cold.

The girls were smiling and relaxed Tuesday. But starting Wednesday night they must buckle down to three strenuous evenings of competition.

BRITAIN'S P1 FLIES SUPERSONIC

LONDON (AP)—Britain's new jet interceptor fighter plane, the P1, slipped through the sound barrier by "mistake" recently, Duncan Sandys, minister of supply, said.

"There was such complete absence of buffeting that the pilot, who was not intended to fly supersonic, found he had got well beyond without noticing it," Sandys told the Society of British Aircraft Constructors Monday. The supply ministry declined further elaboration Tuesday.

Details of the P1 have not been officially disclosed, but some reports place its maximum speed at 1,000 miles an hour.

Mississippi Prepares To Abolish Public Schools If Needed To Keep Segregation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

White and Negro children began attending the same classes in some Virginia schools Tuesday as the Mississippi Legislature prepared to abolish public schools if necessary to maintain segregation.

State school administrators of 11 Southern states heard a noted editor express hope that the Supreme Court will permit desegregation to be handled at local levels.

At the call of Gov. Hugh White, the Mississippi Legislature met in special session.

It will consider a constitutional amendment proposing two methods by which public schools could be abolished in favor of private schools if no other means can be found to circumvent the Supreme Court decision outlawing public school segregation.

One method would permit abol-

Not A Candidate For Any Public Office, Gov. Dewey

NEW YORK (AP)—Republican Gov. Thomas E. Dewey said Tuesday night he will not under any circumstances be a candidate "for any public office this fall."

"After the most thorough and even painful consideration," he said in a statewide telecast, "I have concluded that the time has come for me to return to private life. I shall not under any circumstances be a candidate for any public office this fall."

In announcing his decision to quit the governorship he held for 12 years, the 52-year-old Dewey gave no hint as to whom he favored as his successor.

He said in reply to a question in a news conference afterward he would leave the choice to the Republican State Convention in Syracuse Sept. 22-23. Then, to a question as to whether he thought U.S. Sen. Irving M. Ives would make a good governor, he replied: "Excellent."

Ives has been frequently mentioned as a possible successor to Dewey.

However, Ives had commented only a few hours before Dewey's speech:

"I am not a candidate."

That appeared to leave up in the air — temporarily, at least — the question of whom the Republicans will get behind to meet a Democratic challenge to regain control of the state capitol.

Psychologists have good word for fat boys.

OXFORD, England (AP)—The fat boy—often the object of schoolboy jokes — usually is cleverer and stouter than his thinner pals, two top psychologists reported Tuesday.

Dr. R. G. McInnes and Miss M. A. Davidson gave this report to the British Assn. for the Advancement of Science after a study of boys and girls of all shapes and sizes.

Fat boys show less suspicion and resentment than thin boys.

They tend to outshine their leaner or more muscular cohorts in all-round intelligence tests.

Deaths — traffic, drowning and miscellaneous in that order — were as follows for Midwest states:

Illinois 20 6 4, Indiana 16 1 1, Iowa 4 3 0, Michigan 20 7 5, Minnesota 8 1 2, Missouri 14 4 5, Nebraska 5 0 2, North Dakota 5 0 3, South Dakota 6 0 1, Wisconsin 12 6 0.

To Build Radar Warning Station Near Carmi, Ill.

WASHINGTON (AP)—One of the stations in the radar warning chain is to be built near Carmi, Ill., the Air Force disclosed Tuesday.

In answer to questions, the Air Force said the station will have a staff of about 100 men. Plans call for construction of three barracks, a mess hall, two small supply buildings and other small structures.

Advertisements for bid offers on construction have been published by the Army Corps of Engineers, which supervises construction for the Air Force.

Adduci Approved As House Nominee By Election Board

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—The State Electoral Board Tuesday approved James J. Adduci of Chicago as 2nd District Republican nominee for the Illinois House.

His action appeared to assure the dapper West Sider of a return to the seat he occupied for 18 years before relinquishing it under fire in 1952.

Adduci will be one of three candidates listed on the ballot for election Nov. 2 of the 2nd District's House allotment of three members.

The board, which turned Adduci down on a technicality last week, voted unanimously to accept his second set of nominating papers after Atty. Gen. Latham Castle said there was no legal reason for not accepting them.

Castle, a member of the board, noted also that no objections to his candidacy had been filed.

Adduci, present for the board's brief meeting, said afterwards: "I think they did the right thing. My nomination was legal all the time."

Sitting in for Gov. Stratton as presiding officer of the board was Lt. Gov. John W. Chapman. Stratton is out of the state. Other board members on hand included Castle, State Auditor Orville E. Hodges, Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter and State Treasurer Elmer J. Hoffman.

Bud Fisher Dies, Creator Of Comic 'Mutt And Jeff'

NEW YORK (AP)—Cartoonist Bud Fisher, a comic strip pioneer whose "Mutt and Jeff" became just like members of the family to millions of Americans, died Tuesday of cancer. He was 69.

Fisher, ailing for a year or more, became critically ill about three weeks ago at his Park avenue home. He was moved to Roosevelt Hospital and died there.

He had no close relatives.

Fisher's famous cartoon — now nearly half a century old — won him fame and earned him millions.

Fisher, born Harry Conaway Fisher in Chicago, started the strip in 1907 for the San Francisco Chronicle.

In 1913, Fisher accepted the Bell Syndicate's proposal of a $1,000 weekly guarantee plus a percentage of sales.

Bell syndicated the cartoon and Fisher's earnings from it alone reached as high as $4,500 a week.

He was married twice, the first ending in divorce and the second in a legal separation.

Funeral and burial services will be in New York Thursday.

Mutt and Jeff, now published in more than 200 papers, will live on, their destinies directed by Fisher's assistant, Al Smith.

Florida Prepares For Hurricane

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Edna, packing 115-mile an hour winds, thundered through the Bahamas Islands Tuesday night toward the alerted Florida mainland.

The fifth tropical storm of the season was about 390 miles east-southeast of Miami at 4 p.m. CST. It was moving west-northwest at 12 miles an hour.

Grady Norton, chief storm forecaster here, said hurricane warnings could be expected in Florida during the night or early Wednesday after the storm's future path had been pinpointed.

"I don't see how it can miss south Florida," said Norton.

MONTGOMERY WARD SALES DOWN

CHICAGO (AP)—Montgomery Ward & Co. Tuesday reported August sales totaled $77,590,551, down 13.1 per cent from $89,267,942 in August 1953. Sales for the seven months ended Aug. 31 totaled $511,494,516, down 14.3 per cent from $596,811,866 in the like 1953 months.

Will Sign Pact Today Against Aggression In Southeast Asia

MANILA (Wednesday) (AP)—The formal signing of an eight-nation pact against aggression in Southeast Asia—particularly in Indochina—was scheduled for Wednesday as the Manila conference drew to a close.

Three days of secret meetings reportedly produced a treaty acceptable to all except for the wording of two articles. These deal with armed retaliation in case of attack and a guarantee of the principle of self government for the peoples of Asia.

The formal signing was set for 4 p.m. (2 a.m. Wednesday CST).

Foreign ministers and secretaries or their representatives will sign for Britain, Australia, New Zealand, France, Thailand, Pakistan, The Philippines, and the United States.

The pact calls for military assistance if necessary to the Indochina states of Laos, Cambodia, and South Viet Nam.

It serves as a warning to Red China that the United States now has a legal right to start shooting if those states are attacked.

U. S. Secretary of State Dulles made a major concession when he agreed to delete from the treaty the word "Communists" to make the pact effective against aggression of all kinds in Southeast Asia.

Dulles said Communist aggression was considered an attack on the United States but it must be understood that family squabbles among non-Communist nations were a different matter.

He stood firm, however, against making the Pacific pact—which still has no formal name—on the order of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The Philippines and Thailand insisted the pact should say—as does NATO—that any attack against one signatory nation would be considered an attack against all.

The Pacific draft provides that countries must satisfy requirements of their constitutions before going to war.

It was understood the article was being phrased so as to be acceptable to all. Lord Reading of Britain had added to the section a provision that aid would be sent to any nation only on request.

The area of the treaty is reported to embrace all Southeast Asia, the Southwest Pacific and territories of Asian parties to the treaty. It leaves out Chinese Nationalist Formosa, Japan and South Korea.

The treaty will establish a council which can meet to carry out provisions of the pact. The site of the council and its makeup will be decided after the formal signing.

OVER THIRD OF CORN SAFE FROM FROST

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Well over one-third of the Illinois corn crop now is safe from damage by frost, the State-Federal Agriculture Departments and Weather Bureau reported Tuesday.

In their weekly crop bulletin, the two agencies said nearly one-fourth of the crop in the heavily planted northern section has matured and about two-thirds in the lower half of the state.

Development of soybeans continued to lag behind last year. About 40 per cent of bean acreage had all yellowed leaves or was shedding, compared with 60 per cent a year ago.

Chiang's Forces Stepup Actions To Protect Isle

TAIPEH, Formosa (Wednesday) (AP)—The Nationalists struck savagely by air and sea Tuesday for the second straight day at a menacing Red buildup near their island fortress of Quemoy.

The Defense Ministry announced the planes damaged more than 100 military junks, a gunboat and five motorized vessels. This is the sort of fleet which would be used in any invasion of Quemoy, which lies 120 miles across Formosa Strait from Formosa.

The ministry also claimed that when the planes and warships had done their work, antiaircraft fire ceased on Amoy, seven miles from Quemoy. Fires raged in two fortresses at Amoy and on nearby Taitung Island.

Peiping radio in a broadcast for home consumption said 42 Nationalist planes and five warships took part in the attack. It claimed one plane was shot down and 19 damaged. It said 18 persons were killed by the raiders.

The broadcast, heard in Tokyo, said the warships and artillery of Quemoy opened up on Amoy and Communist shore guns returned the fire.

The Nationalists in this vast pocket war were stepping up their offensive-defensive operations to protect Quemoy, with its 30,000 troops and 40,000 civilian inhabitants. There has been action ever since last Friday, when the Reds hit Quemoy with a record shelling.

Monday night the artillerymen on Quemoy and Red gunners on Amoy exchanged fire.

Thursday, after a general session and three study group meetings, Meek will make his second appearance at a panel show on which he will be questioned by newspaper political writers.

Mrs. Clifford R. Laws of Springfield Federation president, said Illinois' seven women legislators will be honored at a luncheon Thursday. They are Sen. Lotte Holman O'Neill of Downers Grove and Lillian Schlegelhauf of Quincy, and Reps. Mabel Green of Rock Island, Hazel McCaskin of Rock Island, Maud N. Peffer of Aurora, Pauline Rinaker of Carlinville and Bernice Van der Vries of Winnebago.

Also to be honored at the luncheon is Mrs. Vera M. Binks of Kewanee, state director of registration and education.

Towns With Critical Water Shortage Drop To Sixteen

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—The number of Illinois communities with critical or near-critical water supplies dropped to 16 Tuesday as reservoirs filled to safe levels at Highland and Blandinsville.

Highland, aided by rainfall on the Silver Creek watershed, was able to stop trucking in water Aug. 28. Both Highland and Blandinsville now have built up 60-day reserves.

Towns listed as critical or near-critical as of Sept. 4 included Ashley, Assumption, Beecher City, Brownstown, Carterville, Coonerville, Eldorado, Elkhart, Greenfield, Jerseyville, Kincaid, Mulberry Grove, Nashville, Paris, Teutopolis and Williamsburg.

The report was issued by the State Health Department's Division of Sanitary Engineering.

21 State Chairmen Of GOP Invite Ike To Breakfast

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—President Eisenhower has been invited to be the guest of 21 Republican state chairmen of the Midwest and Rocky Mountain states at a breakfast Friday at Denver's Brown Palace Hotel.

This was announced Tuesday by Ray C. Bliss, chairman of the Midwest and Rocky Mountain Republican State Chairmen's Assn. The breakfast will be part of a two-day meeting starting Thursday and Friday, Bliss said.

States represented at the meeting, which is limited to incumbent state chairmen, include Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota, Ohio, South Dakota and Wisconsin.

Cardinal Stritch will lay a wreath at the foot of the statue in the name of the 1,815,976 Catholics in the Chicago archdiocese.

Winchell 'Pretty Sure' McCarthy Didn't Give Him Copy Of Secret 'FBI Letter'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Walter Winchell testified Tuesday he does not know who gave him a purported copy of the secret "FBI letter" in the McCarthy-Armey dispute but: "I am pretty sure that it was not Sen. McCarthy."

The columnist and broadcaster also swore it was not to the best of his recollection—any member of the Republican Wisconsin senator's staff who handed him the hotly controversial document, though he declared he wouldn't name the person who gave it to him even if he did know.

Winchell appeared under subpoena as the third and last witness called by the special Senate committee investigating a charge against McCarthy, who is scheduled to begin presenting his defense tomorrow.

Only a few hours earlier Sen.

Flanders (R-Vt.), originator of the charge, said a "clear violation" of the espionage law appears to have been involved in the transmittal of the secret document to Winchell.

He said the "letter" amounted to a forgery and that McCarthy appeared to have broken the law by concealing the identity of the forger.

Flanders said in a memo made public by the committee that McCarthy either gave Winchell the document himself or knew who did. In either case, Flanders said, McCarthy's action "would seem to constitute a serious violation of the law."

McCarthy declined to comment on Flanders' statement.

The "letter" in question was produced by McCarthy last May during the hearings in his row with Army officials. It concerned a hunt for spies at Ft. Monmouth, N.J., and Atty. Gen. Brownell ruled it would be against the nation's interest to make it public.

Winchell wrote in his syndicated column at the time that he had a copy of the "letter."

Winchell figured also in another development today, although it didn't come into the open during the hearing. Sources close to McCarthy indicated the senator may question the impartiality of Sen. Ervin (D-Conn.), a member of the six-man committee, on the basis of information Winchell broadcast Sunday night.

McCarthy declined comment on the report. Ervin told newsmen he knew of no basis for challenging his impartiality.

Editorial Comment

EDC IS DEAD, WHAT NOW?

The killing of the European Defense Community pact by the French parliament may have given the Soviet Union its greatest European victory since the end of World War II.

What hurts is not just the fact that France has rejected this plan for a six-nation army integrating German with other European forces. What hurts is that the French took two years to administer the death blow.

Those two years were filled with delays, alibis, unfilled promises, diversions, and a host of other frustrating tactics. All they succeeded in accomplishing in the end was to enervate partially the morale of the West and to hand the Russians two valuable years of time in which to augment their own military machine.

The final, smashing stroke at EDC disrupted NATO's long-laid plans, which involved an expected 12 German divisions as part of the EDC project. The French action also knocked away a corner prop from American and Western foreign policy.

The biggest damage in this area was done to the West's policy for Western Germany. For some years, this country, Britain and others have been trying laboriously to bring the Germans into the free family of nations. That effort is now in peril.

The West has pursued this aim not out of love of Germany, its World War II enemy, but out of a full appreciation of the realities of European politics.

Germany is the great prize of Europe. Its industrial and potential military might need no description. We cannot see Germany fall to the Soviet Union. Nor can we stand by and watch it adopt a tenuous sort of neutrality that would be bound to work more for the benefit of the Communists than for us.

Germany must be tied to the West somehow. France is not alone in fearing a resurgence of German militarism, but it has long been recognized that German armed might is important to the West. Furthermore, if it were developed outside Western control it could make the difference between survival and ruin for the free powers.

EDC, calling for a unified European army with German strength integrated, seemed almost an inspired solution. Ironically now, we can recall that the French themselves proposed the plan. But the timidity and vacillation of French politicians in the face of hard realities caused them to shrink from approving their own handiwork.

Premier Mendes-France, who disclosed himself at the last minute as a foe of EDC, now talks glibly of new solutions that will embrace German rearmament. But it is difficult to see what plan the French could approve which would satisfy any other West European power, not to mention the United States.

A hard choice lies ahead. Action on Germany is vital. Delay may drive the Germans to make a deal with the Communist world, Britain, the United States, Italy, and the smaller countries should proceed to devise a new plan that will give the Germans their political sovereignty and draw their strength to the West, even if it must be shaped as an independent national army under fairly loose control.

Such a solution may not be to France's liking. But what France likes or dislikes is not paramount at this moment. The French have been tried and found wanting. They have cost the cause of freedom precious time.

What counts is welding a Europe that will keep the Russians from controlling or neutralizing Germany, Europe's most powerful element. We must set a goal and move toward it speedily. Let France go where it will. The French already have cast aside the best solution. They hardly dare complain if we work out a second best.

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (P)—If you're 65 and entitled to social security benefits, can you get them if you keep on working and earning money instead of retiring?

Yes, within limits under the present law. And the new law recently passed by Congress, to go into effect Jan. 1, softens the limits on how much you can earn and still collect social security benefits. That age, starting Jan. 1, will be lowered to 72.

Under the new rule, starting Jan. 1, if you're between 65 and 72, whether you can continue to earn money and draw benefits depends on (A) the amount of your earnings, and (B) the number of months you work.

This is what that means: You can earn up to $1,200 a year and still collect full social security benefit for every month of that year.

Example: John Jones, earning $100 a month, gets a total salary of $1,200 in 1955. He receives his full social security benefit every month of 1955 because he did not earn more than $1,200 that year.

But if you work every month of the year, earning more than $80 each month and winding up with more than $1,200 at the year's end, you lose a month's social security benefit for each additional $80, or any part of it, that you earn in 1955.

Example: Tom Smith, working every month, earns $1,205 in 1955. For 11 months he earns $100 a month. One month he earns $105. He loses his social security benefit for that one month in which he earned $105.

Another Example: Bill Kelly working every month and earning more than $80 each month, winds up at the end of 1955 with $1,440. That $1,440 is $240 more than the $1,200 exemption. That $240 represents three times $80. Kelly loses his social security benefit for 3 of the 12 months.

But for any month in which you earn less than $80, no matter how much you earn for the year, you get a social security benefit for that month.

Example: Mortimer Snyder earns $2,500 in the first three months of 1955, but only $75 a month for the next nine months. He loses his social security benefit for those first three months but gets his benefit for each of those nine months when he earned less than $80.

The rule is slightly different for the self-employed person who reaches 65, is entitled to social security benefits, but wants to keep on in business.

He too can earn up to $1,200 a year and still get his social security benefit every month. He does not lose his benefit, if he makes more than $1,200 for any month in which he did not render "substantial service to his trade or business."

Example: Sidney Hemingway is a retired consulting engineer. In 1955 he is asked to help out on a new bridge. He works just one month, January, and the fee he collects is $125,000. He does not work for the other 11 months.

Although his earned income for 1955 thus turns out to be $125,000, he loses his social security benefit only in the month he earned it. In January, he collects the benefit for each of the other 11 months he did not work.

If you're 65 and are thinking of continuing to work, count earned income only. Do not include in it as pensions, insurance payments or interest or dividends.

There Are Methods of Dealing With High Blood Pressure

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

High blood pressure, sometimes called hypertension, may be considered as a symptom of any one of several different conditions. It is said to exist when the pressure of the blood against the arteries remains persistently higher than normal.

"Normal" is not always easy to define because it is usual for the blood pressure to go up slightly as a person gets older. Recently, in fact, it has been suggested that in older persons the pressure is often higher than was previously believed to be normal and that many such people remain in good health and do not need special treatment.

High blood pressure remains a real problem. In some cases the cause can be traced to the kidneys or some other organ and steps can be taken to attack the difficulty at its source.

BUT in a large group of people the cause cannot be found and the condition is labeled as "essential hypertension" or high blood pressure of unknown cause. For this variety a vast number of treatments have been suggested, including such scientifically dubious remedies as garlic, Hawthorn berries and plant extracts.

In spite of the current lack of knowledge of the cause and treatment of essential hypertension, progress is being made and some victims of the disorder are being successfully treated. And just as important in the long run is the encouraging fact that more brains and more funds are being devoted to research on high blood pressure.

THIS INDEX is the only method which will lead to better understanding of its causes and to the development of treatments which will benefit all of those who now have or may expect to develop hypertension.

But even today there are several methods of attacking essential hypertension. Some people have been benefited by the diet. Of these the so-called rice diets, mostly of the low salt content variety, have also proved valuable.

THE USE of tissue extracts has proved useful for some; the production of artificial fever for others. Not to be ignored is surgery. The operation consists in cutting some of the nerves lying near the spine. Certainly many have benefited by this but it is an ordeal and less punishing methods must still be sought.

With the conquest of so many of the infectious diseases, more people are living longer and hypertension is one of the troubles faced in middle and old age rather than in youth. It is perhaps partly for this reason that one hears so much about high blood pressure now and that it has become so important to do more about it.

In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD (P)—This year Esther Williams goes out to meet the public "dry." Next year she'll be "wet."

The celebrated swimming star is leaving on her first big theater and night club tour. No, she won't be swimming this time. She'll appear in a musical act that will kid her amphibious movie epics.

I caught the act at The Trails, where Esther debuted over the weekend. It is a westside Los Angeles night spot which, oddly enough, is owned by Esther and her husband, Ben Gage.

The act looked good in preview form. There was much dancing about by Esther and a chorus of five singers and dancers. There was much jostling about Esther and her liquified existence. One song had her husband complaining "When I squeeze her she squeaks."

After doing a strenuous Mambo, Esther came panting over to explain how she got involved in the whole deal.

"My agents have been after me for some time to go out on tour," she said. "At first, there was the idea of putting a tank on the stage of the Winter Garden in New York. Then they got the idea of going out with a 'dry' tour. I said no at first. My agents sold the act to Bill Miller of the Las Vegas Sahara before I even consented to it. They knew I would agree when that happened. The Las Vegas salaries are simply unbelievable."

The show has been whipped up with Esther, Ben, the chorus, a baby elephant, an acrobatic act and a comedian. The bookings include Indianapolis, Detroit, Cleveland, Milwaukee, Minneapolis and Las Vegas.

NEW YORK (P)—Ziva Shapir is a Sabra—and a very pretty Sabra too.

"A Sabra is a native-born Israeli," explained Miss Shapir, who is Israel's 1954 wine festival queen. "It is the Hebrew word for cactus, which, like our people, must be tough on the outside to endure—but remains sweet inside."

But Ziva, a 21-year-old tall, shapely brunette with amber wine-colored eyes, doesn't look at all like a cactus outside. Doesn't look much like a wine salesman either.

"Israel has three wonderful crops — children, oranges and wine," she said. "We have 22 kinds of wine, including champagne."

The United States is Ziva's second homeland. She came here at the age of 14 and spent three years in St. Louis studying ballet dancing. After returning to her own country, she spent a year with the Israeli defense army. Since then she has become an actress, and has appeared in several movies.

How does she compare life in America and Israel?

Ziva feels that the relationship between boys and girls is much more natural and honest in Israel.

"Here if a boy phones on Thursday to ask a girl for a date on Saturday, she tells him no — whether she really already has another date or not."

"In Israel we don't have so many telephones. Dating is much more casual. Girls don't bother to pretend they are popular. They are more realistic."

Miss Shapir—her full name is translated as "sunshine sapphire"—is sure that Dior's new fall silhouette will flop in Israel.

"The bustline there is very important," she said. "The false business is very bad. There is hardly any such thing as a flat-chested girl."

As to the romantic difference between American and Israeli men, she remarked archly:

"Well, I have heard there are frustrated women in this country. I don't know of any frustrated women in Israel."

Manners Make Friends

Either say you will or say you won't. The person who is vague about his plans when they involve others may make things easy for himself but at the expense of others. So whether you are discussing whether or not you will drop by to see the Joneses tonight or go shopping with Mrs. Smith tomorrow, make up your mind.

Either "yes" or "no"—but not "maybe."

Arab-Israeli War Delays Era of Peace in Middle East

BY PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (P)—NEA—There the British have long considered is a great temptation to think that their principal role the keeping of everything in the Middle East is the peace.

Any improvement is a net gain. The British-offered new constitution. But this part of the world— not for an independent Cyprus only in the Middle East proper smack of old-fashioned colonialism but in the larger Arab belt from government. But the British have Morocco clear through to Kashmir apparently decided to put down any still packs a larger load of dynamite opposition to this offer, by force mite than even Southeast Asia if necessary.

There is no basis for stability. Egypt, Saudi Arabia and the current riots in Morocco and other Arab countries consider Jordan. Tunisia is one example. Israel can't completely British sub is hot and bothered by the Anglo-sidized puppet. If it were not for Egyptian agreement to evacuate Jordan's check on Israeli expansion British troops from the Suez Canal, there would be Arab agitation area, fearing new embargoes by to get the British out of Jordan. The British talk about moving one thorn in the side of all the their Mid-East command head. Arab countries. Incidentally, they quarters from the Suez to Aden, still blame the United States for Jordan or Cyprus. All are potential this Israel invasion of the Middle trouble spots.

Tests Prove Breakfast Aids Students' Alertness

A BASIC BREAKFAST, say professors of nutrition at the University of Iowa College of Medicine, is necessary for alertness and good marks at school.

BY GADNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Gone without breakfast, as a shocking large number of American children do, is detrimental to both their attitudes and scholastic attainments.

That is the conclusion of a recent controlled test on 25 students, ages 12 to 14, conducted by Dr. W. W. Tuttle, professor of psychology, and Dr. Kate Daum, professor of nutrition, at the University of Iowa College of Medicine. Data were collected from the 25 school boys over a period of 26 weeks.

As reported in the July issue of the Journal of the American Dietetic Association, the teacher's report "showing that the majority of boys had a definitely better attitude and better scholastic breakfast (a basic cereal and milk breakfast—fruit, cereal with milk, bread, butter or margarine and milk to drink, was included in the daily dietary regimen then when it was omitted. For example, some of the boys were careless and inattentive during the late morning hours when breakfast was omitted. During the period when they ate breakfast, these same boys showed recognizable improvement, especially in scholastic attainment."

"One subject was reported to be careless, languid and listless during the late morning hours when he did not eat breakfast, but did good scholastic work and had sufficient energy for outside activity during the period when breakfast was included in his daily eating plan. It was the opinion of the school principal and of the teacher that breakfast was a material asset to the boys both in the matter of attitude and scholastic accomplishment."

A cup of coffee and a doughnut is not an adequate breakfast. Yet thousands of school children have that or nothing at all. Nutritionists, doctors and school leaders are trying to raise the standard of American breakfasts, not only for children, but for the entire family.

They point out the very simple, economical and completely adequate cereal-and-milk breakfast provides one third to one quarter of the nutritional needs of the day, which is what any good breakfast should do.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Tomato juice, pot roast with vegetables, buttered noodles, rye bread, butter or margarine, lettuce and tomato salad, apple pie, cheese, coffee, tea, milk.

Hog Prices Rally After Break To 19-Month Low

NATIONAL STOCK YARDS, Ill.—Following a severe early decline which reduced values to the lowest level in 19 months, the hog trade scored a sharp comeback late, according to the Producers Live Stock Marketing Association. Fed cattle strengthened under broad buying orders and lambs were little changed.

From a midweek top of $20.15 cwt. hogs rallied late to a Friday peak of $21.75. After five days of trading weights over 800 lbs. figured steady to 10 to 15c higher; lighter kinds 25c and heavier 50c lower, and packing sows 25c improved.

Aided by moderate receipts, steer and heifer cattle ended the week steady to 25c to 50c higher, advance on the better kinds. Cows dropped 25c and bulls were off 50c. Good and choice steers bulked at $19.50 to $24.25, while high choice and prime reached $25 and $25.50, the top. Veal calves sold downward from $22.

Lambs started the week on a moderately lower basis, but soon recovered the loss and closed about in line with the previous week's advance. Good to prime offerings were largely $18 to $20, with a few select reaching $20.50 and $20.75. Feeding lambs centered at $15, some of the best making $16. Slaughter ewes were steady at $3 to $4.

Salable receipts of live stock at National Stock Yards for August exceeded 300,000 head for the third consecutive month. The 92,155 cattle were among the largest for that month and calves made up an additional 27,427 head. Earlier than usual marketings of new crop hogs raised the volume to 173,945, up 13 per cent from July. Sheep and lambs were relatively small at 26,304.

It now seems likely that more meat will be produced in the United States this year than ever before in history.

School Days
Northminster
Aid's Program

The Ladies Aid Society of the Northminster Presbyterian church held its regular monthly meeting at 2 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 2 at the church. The president, Mrs. Paul DeFrates, was in charge. Mrs. Narius Hodge conducted the devotion.

During the business session it was decided the Aid will sponsor a California hamburger luncheon the latter part of September and at the same time have an Old Fashioned Store with various home-made products on sale.

The program for the meeting was under the supervision of Mrs. William Bieber and Mrs. Harry Oliver with the theme, School Days. The song, School Days, was sung by the group and Mrs. George Coraor read a poem with the same title. An old fashioned spelling bee was won by Mrs. Lillie Sears.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the hostesses of the month, Mrs. Walter DeShara, Mrs. Allen Fernandes, Mrs. John Huber, Mrs. S. J. Blackman, Mrs. Albert Sims, Mrs. Henry DeFrates and Mrs. H. L. Evans.

The next meeting will be held at the church Thursday, Oct. 7.

RIVER ROUGE SALMON

Paul R. Phelps, 947 E. College Ave., (left) and O. B. Cannon, 293 Kentucky St., had some wonderful salmon fishing this year in the Rogue river of Oregon and sent along a couple of pictures to prove it.

Writing from Gold Beach, Ore., Phelps says the weather was perfect "with temperatures from 50-70 and sunshine every day."

Accompanied by Mrs. Phelps, they are fishing this year without guide service and this far have landed 25 of these tackle busters, weighing from 20 to 35 pounds each. We have our own tackle, carport boat and motor.

"We all have a 'Button Fish' that is a salmon over 30 pounds which gives us a membership in the Rogue River Salmon club," Phelps wrote.

"Broom Corn"
Harvested In Glasgow Area

GLASGOW — Charles (Tinker)

Wilson, well known Glasgow broom-maker, with the aid of several local men, has been busy the past week "harvesting" several small patches of broom corn, which he raises each year to be used in the making of brooms.

The first operation in the harvesting process is the "tebling" of the corn while yet in the field. This is done by breaking over each stalk likely to bear twins than are about two or three feet from the top, while

The neighboring stalk is done the same way, and the two tops are put together, supporting each other in a horizontal position.

After sufficient drying, these tops are then cut from the supporting stalks and hauled in to the "seeder." This apparatus is a wooden cylinder, heavily studded with nails, and turned by a pulley and belt, with a tractor as motive power. A hand-ful of the tops are held down on the cylinder as it rotates, and the many seeds are quickly knocked off. The tops are then sorted according to size and quality, and are then ready to be made into brooms.

Nonwife mothers in the United States are about one-fourth more than by breaking over each stalk likely to bear twins than are about two or three feet from the top, while

XXXI

GOREY glowered at Kinnaird, but uncertain of his ground, decided to appeal to a higher authority. He left the courthouse to ask Jacob Fugger. But that worthy had already been informed of what had happened and was coming toward the courthouse.

He encountered Kinnaird coming out. "You can't arrest Hong Kong Smith," he cried.

"Maybe I can't," said Kinnaird, grimly, "but I did. I had to crack him over the head."

Fugger cried out in horror. "There'll be trouble over this."

"For Smith. When he sobers up I'm taking him before the judge."

Fugger brightened for an instant, but then looked suspiciously at Kinnaird.

"What judge?"

"The only judge in the county—Judge Kraft!"

Fugger winced. "Kinnaird, I'll give you 10 minutes to cool off. Then I'll be back."

"Better come with a gun," warned Kinnaird.

Fugger whistled away. He went straight to McCoy's Saloon. McCoy was bitter about Smith. "He took a shot at me."

"He didn't hit you."

"It wasn't his fault that he didn't. He put a bullet through the bank window, among other things."

Fugger grimaced. "We've got to overlook what he's done. We—we need him and his business."

"I suppose we do, but how far can we let a man go?"

Fugger suddenly bared his teeth. "I'm not going to argue with you, McCoy." He looked around. "Where's Eric Stratemeyer?"

McCoy looked toward a room at the rear. "Sleeping."

"Wake him up."

McCoy hesitated but went toward the office at the rear. He found Stratemeyer awake. "What's all the racket about?" the fero dealer asked.

"Fugger wants to talk to you."

Stratemeyer followed McCoy into the saloon.

"You," said Fugger. "I want you to go down to the jail and get Hong Kong Smith out."

Stratemeyer fixed Fugger with a cold look. "I haven't had much experience breaking people out of jail."

"Now, don't you go making trouble," Fugger complained. "I've had enough. I brought you here to town."

"Let's get things straight," Stratemeyer said. "You sent for me to do one particular job—get rid of a man named Bailey. He's skipped town. Maybe I scared him out, maybe I didn't."

"I'm not worried about that now."

"All right, you've got another job? You'll pay me $1000?"

Fugger swallowed hard. "You drive a hard bargain."

"They tell me you do, too," retorted Stratemeyer. "You want me to gun the sheriff?"

Fugger hesitated. "I'll let you know later."

"You do that, Mr. Fugger. In the meantime, would you mind sending over the $1000 you already owe me?" Stratemeyer smiled, a cold smile that sent a chill running through Fugger. He nodded and virtually ran out of the saloon.

On the street he encountered Manny Harpending and three or four Texas men. "Harpending," Fugger called. "If you're looking for your boss, he's in jail."

"Who—who had the nerve to do that?"

"The sheriff. I asked him to turn Smith loose, but he said no

Texas men could take Smith away from him."

"We'll see about that!" cried one of the Texans.

INSIDE of 20 minutes, a score or more of Texas men marched on the jail. Kinnaird, pale but determined, met them at the door.

"Don't do anything foolish, men!"

"We're gonna take your jail apart if you don't turn old Hong Kong loose in 30 seconds," shouted one of the men.

Kinnaird drew his gun. He was ready to make an issue of it and then Marshal Gorey appeared in the doorway behind him. Kinnaird, hearing his step, started to turn and a Texas man close by sprang upon Kinnaird and smashed him on the head with his gun.

A roar went up and the Texans charged the jail, trampling and kicking Kinnaird as they swarmed over him. Gorey made no resistance and inside of a minute, Hong Kong Smith, only half-conscious, was brought out. The mob paid no attention to Kinnaird, but when they left the jail, Kinnaird picked himself up, bleeding and bruised.

TANCRED rode steadily through the night, until nearly dawn, when he staked out his horse on the prairie. Using his carpetbag for a pillow, he stretched out to sleep on the buffalo grass.

Hours later he awakened and was soon in the saddle. He rode steadily all that day to the east and north and the following morning out the stage trail. He followed it till late afternoon, when he crossed a shallow stream and sighted the stage station at Turkey Crossing. He asked the agent for something to eat.

The supper was plain, but substantial, and Tancred who had not eaten for two days was grateful. When he had finished he walked outside and, after a moment, found himself heading for the little mound of earth back of the station, where Laura Vesser's father was buried.

KINNAIRD, a bandage about his head and showing several cuts and bruises on his face, stood outside Fugger's Store as Laura Vesser came out a minute or two after 12.

She exclaimed when she saw his face. "You're hurt!"

Kinnaird made a gesture of dismissal. "I was a hero this morning... almost." He took her arm. "I'll buy your lunch."

She flashed him a smile. "I've only a half hour."

"Long enough." He steered her toward the Texas Saloon, but as they got to the door, Laura pulled back. "Couldn't we eat at the Bon Ton?"

"There's a—a friend here, wants to talk to you."

Dubiously, Laura allowed herself to be led into the Texas Saloon.

Lily Leeds was standing in the door of her office. She backed in. "How are you, Miss Vesser? I'm Lily Leeds."

A table had been set up inside the office, with chairs for three. Food was already on the table. Kinnaird closed the door.

"Sit down," said Lily. "We'll eat while we talk."

Kinnaird pulled out a chair and Laura sat down. Lily and Kinnaird also seated themselves and began to eat, but Laura fidgeted with her food. She looked up suddenly and found Lily's eyes on her.

"I wanted to meet you," declared Lily. "I've heard so much of you from Wes that I wanted to see what you were like."

Laura looked at Lily in astonishment. "Wes talked to you... about me?"

"Not exactly. He doesn't talk much—at least not to me. But he came in here before he left and told me he was going. I knew it was because of you."

Laura's eyes clouded. "Why should he leave town because of me?"

"Because he's in love with you."

Laura's hand twitched suddenly and she knocked over her cup of coffee. In the confusion of clearing up, she recovered herself. But if she thought Lily would be distracted by the incident, she was mistaken.

Lily said quietly, "You see, Laura, I offered to go with him, but he turned me down."

And then Laura Vesser felt the coldness that she had not known she possessed. She drew herself up stiffly.

"I don't think I care to discuss the particular subject," she told Lily.

A look of grudging admiration came over Lee Kinnaird's face. But Lily's eyes narrowed. "Where has Wes Tancred gone to?" she demanded.

"Didn't he tell you where he was going?" Laura asked.

"No, he didn't."

Laura Vesser shook her head. "I'm sure I don't know. He didn't tell me either."

Laura pushed back her chair. "I've got to get back to work."

"Just a moment," exclaimed Lily. "That fine employer of yours has been accusing Wes Tancred of killing the mayor and first thing you know he'll be sending out a warrant for his arrest."

"Not through me," said Kinnaird.

"He doesn't have to go through you, you know that as well as I. I want to warn Wes."

"I've got to go," said Laura firmly. She started for the door. Kinnaird grinned at the furious Lily as Laura went out. "You told me you just wanted to meet her. And then it turned out to

Fire Protection District Meeting To Be Held Soon

CARROLLTON—Representatives of the Illinois Association of Fire Protection Districts and of the State Fire Marshals office will be asked to speak and to head a round table discussion at a meeting to be held later in September for all residents of the Carrollton, Kane and Eldred areas who are interested in the proposal to form a Fire Protection District in the areas named.

Plans for the meeting were made Thursday evening at a meeting of committee members from the three areas. The meeting was held in the city council rooms in this city and Attorney W. G. Vogt presented the plans which had previously been formulated by a committee.

The plans as proposed call for fire fighting units to be located in Carrollton, Kane and Eldred. This will be adequate for use in the rural areas as well as in the three towns named.

The date of the meeting, which will be open to the general public, will be announced soon.

Fire In Trailer In Carrollton

CARROLLTON—The clothing of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sanford and their son, and the furniture in the living room of their trailer home at Gilber's Trailer Court was destroyed by a fire which broke out Thursday evening while the Sanford family were in Jacksonville.

Mrs. Selma Kelly, a neighbor, saw the fire and called the city fire department but the furniture of the living room and a new air conditioner were destroyed by the fire although the walls of the trailer were not badly damaged.

The Sanford family were planning to leave Friday morning on vacation and had packed their clothes and left them on the divan in the living room and they were burned with the divan.

The family pets a parakeet and a cat were unhurt by the fire although the parakeet was in a cage in the room in which the fire broke out.

Mr. Sanford, who is a contractor, is doing special work for the Illinois Telephone Company while making his home here.

TOYS FOR HEALTH

MOST kids play with toys for the fun of it, but not the youngsters at the Niagara Research foundation in Meadville, Pa. They like to spend their time with model trains, boats and doll houses, but there's a serious purpose behind their play-time. Toys are really medical equipment at the clinic, where muscular dystrophy, cerebral palsy and spastic cases are treated. The toys have certain therapeutic machinery to strengthen weakened muscles. When a child plays with a toy, he is really helping to build up his body. Dr. Edward Connor, the director of the center, is himself a victim of multiple sclerosis. With the few more years that physicians give him to continue in active practice, he is devoting all of his time to aiding these handicapped children. A Meadville industrialist, Owen K. Murphy, founded this unique center for the handicapped.

Giants Whip Phillies 3-1 On Irvin's Hit

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Monte Irvin hit a two-run double in the 11th inning Tuesday night as the New York Giants whipped the Philadelphia Phillies 3-1 and hiked their National League lead over the idle Milwaukee Braves to 4½ games.

The game was a tightly knit battle royal all the way with loser Curt Simmons pitching his heart out, allowing only seven scattered hits.

The victory went to Ruben Gomez, who went 10 1-3 innings.

Irvin also figured in the Giants' first run, scored in the second while Gran Hamner hit his 13th homer of the year in the eighth to tie it up at 1-1.

The Phils threatened right down to the final gun, leading the bases in the bottom of the 11th as Willie Jones and Floyd Baker singled and Mel Clark beat out an infield hit. But reliever Hoyt Wilhelm forced Stan Lopata to foul out and end the ball game.

The Giants couldn't touch Simmons in the first inning but in the second Willie Mays led off with a walk. He went to third on Irvin's single to right and scored as Bob Hofman hit into a double play.

In the Giants' 11th, Davey Williams walked and was sacrificed to second by Al Dark. After pinch hitter Eric Rodin struck out, Mays was passed intentionally to set up Irvin's tie-breaking double.

LOST 3-6 WEEKS

EDMONTON (AP)—Doctors who attended Arnie Weinmeister after he was injured in Monday night's Western Interprovincial Football Union game here estimated Tuesday that the giant tackle will be lost to the British Columbia Lions three to six weeks.

Weinmeister suffered a dislocated shoulder.

Bill Marker, West Virginia end, missed the College All-Star Football game last season because he had a date with his girl.

Washington U. Opens Grid Drills; 64 Out

ST. LOUIS—Two-a-day football workouts are in full swing on Washington University's practice field. Sixty-four Bruin hopefuls were on hand for the first full scale workouts Wednesday, Sept. 1.

Unlike many grid chiefs who start moaning about their teams September 1st and don't stop until after the final game, the Bears' Head Coach Carl Snavely is optimistic about his team's chances.

"From the looks of the squad, I would say that this year's team will be as good and perhaps a little better than our 1953 bunch," the "Gray Fox" observed shortly after his first look at the 1954 prospects.

"I believe that we will be able to strengthen our weak spots in the line and develop some good backfield reserves," he continued.

Snavely plans to lose no time during his drills at 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. He means each day's work in advance so that no man is idle for a minute. A typical morning drill begins at 10 a.m. with warm-ups. At 10:25 the Bears gather for a squad drill—opening day they worked on

Jerseyville Lists 9 Team Grid Card

The Jerseyville Panthers opened football drills last week with 70 players reporting and readying themselves for the September 17 opener against Roxana.

The Panthers started through last year with a 9-0 record good for first place in the Illinois Valley Conference. Coach Joe Jurkanin has seven returning lettermen from this fine team.

Four backs: Tom Edwards, Richard Witt, Les Weller and John Allen return for another season. The other lettermen include two tackles—Charles Powers and Bill Plummer—and center Bob Brooks.

Schedule:
Sept. 17—Roxana (T)
Sept. 23—Marquette (T)
Oct. 1—Carrollton (H)
Oct. 8—White Hall (H)
Oct. 15—Winchester (H)
Oct. 22—Pittsfield (H)

Football Briefs

By JERRY LISKA

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Log of a football "skywriter," one in a group of 13 scribes whose plane glided into all Big Ten camps and Notre Dame.

At Notre Dame: A tipoff the Irish may have tough going—five of the leading nine candidates for the entire backfield are sophomores.

In the Frank Leahy era, sophomores just went along for the ride. . . . An Irish rookie seems destined to start at right half eighth Dean Stader or Sherrill Sipes. . . . Soph Jim Morse is No. 2 behind veteran Joe Heap at left half. . . . The very questionable fullback Don Schaefer, a junior, while soph Frank Pinn could make it. . . . The best soph Paul Horning backs up the strongest Irish position, quarterback, behind Ralph Guglielmi and Tom Carey. . . .

At Michigan State: The Spartans are the Big Ten team to beat. . . . Of the 13 touring writers 8 picked MSC to win the crown it shared last season with Illinois. . . . The Illini got three first-place votes. . . . One went to Wisconsin and one to Iowa who were doped to finish in that order, followed by Ohio State, Michigan, Indiana, Purdue, Minnesota (tied for eighth) and Northwestern. . . . There will be few backs better than MSC's LeRoy Bolden. . . . And new Coach Duffy Daugherty has the horses to play two units in a one platoon game. . . .

Michigan: Benny Oosterbaan declined to size up the race. . . . Louis Baldacci, at both quarterback and fullback, is the key man as the Wolverines rebuild with 17 returning lettermen but only 3 1953 regulars. . . .

Ohio State: Woody Hayes has escaped usual Buckeye state pressure for a Big Ten champion. Ohio State has a fine set of backs and could be dangerous. . . . The Bucks may hold the Big Ten title key as they meet Illinois, Iowa and Wisconsin successively in mid-season. . . .

Illinois: Ray Eliot's contention the co-champion Illini will be 30 per cent weaker than last year made little impression on the visiting writers. . . . J. C. Caroline, Mackey Bates and siph Alex Woodson, who is faster than Caroline, look like a terrific set of ball carriers no matter who fronts for them. . . .

Iowa: The Hawkeyes perhaps are getting too much mileage off their 12 of their remaining 16 games. The Dodgers must win all 17 to overtake them. Even Manager Walter Alston realizes his Brooks face an all but hopeless task. The Dodgers' immediate problem is to regain second place.

The Yankees blew three chances over the weekend, losing to Washington Saturday and Sunday and to Boston Labor Day. Monday they looked tired and worn. Cleveland's furious pace appeared to have affected the veteran Yankees.

The Indians, who drop an infrequent game here and there, have shown no signs of letting up on their torrid 700 plus pace. They need only 2 more victories to reach the 100 mark with 16 left to play. Only a complete collapse can prevent them from dethroning the Yankees.

Purdue: This could be the season Stu Holcomb predicted for his Boilermakers last season when he stamped them a threat only to get an eighth-place finish. . . . The Boilermakers have starters back at every position, good pass receivers and an excellent sophomore passing quarterback Len Dawson, behind seasoned Frankie Gutman. . . .

Minnesota: Rival coaches suspect that new Coach Murray Warmath from Mississippi State may have a tough Gopher crew if he finds a quarterback to handle his split T system. . . . Paul Giel is gone but Warmath has cranked up a faster Minnesota attack. . . .

Indiana: It's all up to Olympic decathlon star Milt Campbell. . . . The sophomore Hoosier who runs, jumps and vaults better than any football player since Jim Thorpe, is expected to be a brilliant right halfback. Campbell, iron-man Florian Helinski handling Indiana's split T quarterbacking, and three lettermen fullbacks, may perk the Hoosier attack considerably. . . .

Northwestern: The Wildcats finished last without a conference victory last season. . . . This year, Bob Voight must find a quarterback to replace sharp-shooting Dick Thomas. . . . Even with a brilliant back in Bob Lauter, it looks like tough sledding again for the Wildcats.

More People Bet Less Money

TRENTON, N. J. (AP)—A trend of more people betting less money continued through the first 21 days of Atlantic City race tracks' 1954 meeting. New Jersey Treasurer Archibald S. Alexander reported Tuesday.

The treasurer reported attendance was up 21 per cent this year compared to the first 21 days of the 1953 meet but that betting dropped from $37,341,036 to $36,327,468. The same trend was reported at the Monmouth Park track earlier in the summer.

END 30-DAY MEET

CHICAGO (AP)—Washington Park race track Tuesday ended its 30-day meeting, and officials termed it about as successfully financially as last year's 31-day session. . . . The mutual handle this year was $35,478,655 compared with $36,931,076 last year. The attendance was 496,914 against 513,680 a year ago.

FAN BREEZES

BY BILL MERRIS

Some 200 men jammed into the Jackson County Club last night to pay tribute to one of the country's best professional golfers, Jerry Barber. Jerry, here on a two day "holiday," was the guest of honor at the club's annual "Jerry Barber Day."

Judge Wright served as master of ceremonies during the evening. The Judge first introduced Mayor Hoagland. The Mayor is a cousin of the guest of honor. His Honor served to welcome the golfer to the city and let Jerry know that the people of Jacksonville are very much interested in him and his play. . . .

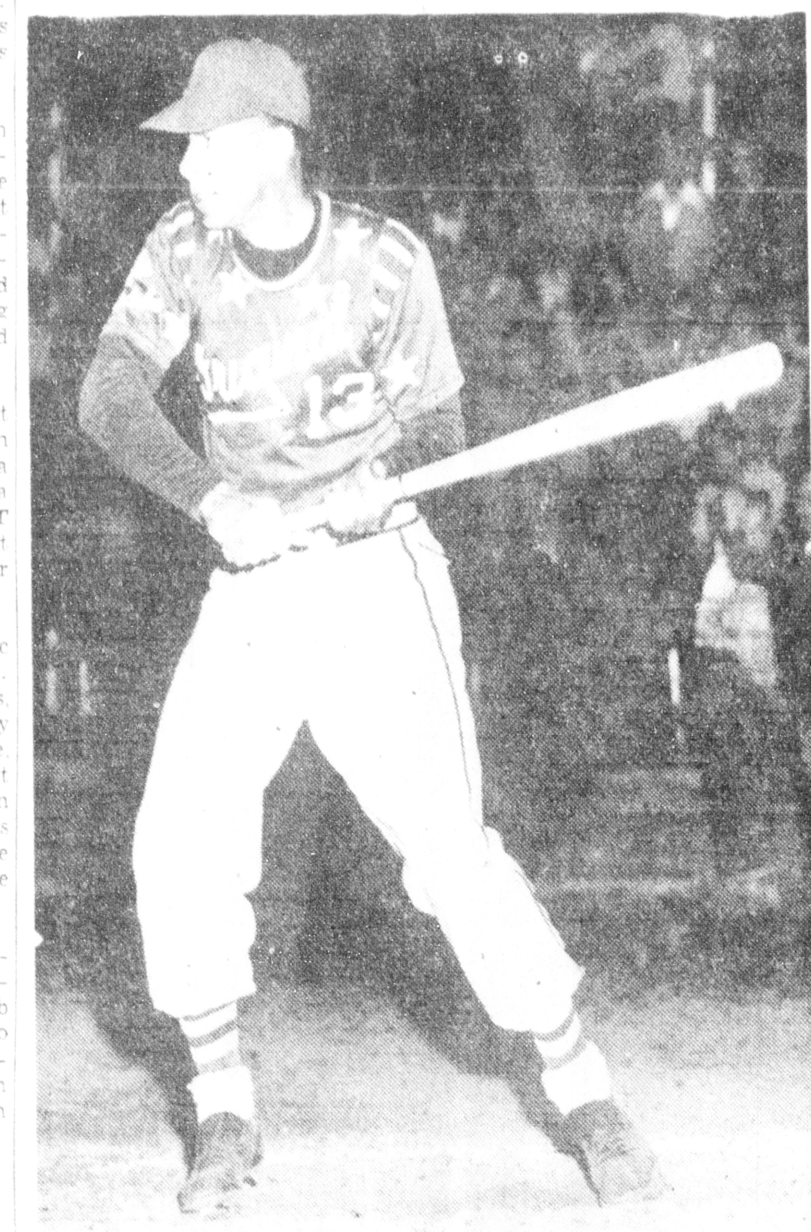

Next on the speaker's list was Jimmy Buckley, Jim probably had more to do with the success of the day for Jerry than any other one single person. He told about their days together as caddies and golfers and some of their experiences. . . .

Floyd Craft, another boyhood friend of Jerry's, gave a short talk on some of the experiences the two of them had encountered. Floyd summed it up very nicely when he made this statement about Jerry, "He always did a little extra." . . .

Don Beame, a former Illinois College baseball star and a man who played a lot of golf with Jerry, was introduced by Judge Wright. Don had nothing but praise for the diminutive golfer. . . .

Jerry gave a short talk telling of some of his experiences and gave a little information on some of the up and coming young golfers. He mentioned Don Fairfield and said he wished he would wake up in the morning and be the size

BABE RUTH'S HOME RUN RECORD BROKEN

Yes, two members of the world famous four-man softball team, The King and His Court, broke the record of sixty home runs in one season, last year—in softball where fewer home runs are made than in baseball. Mike Mellicke, short stop, who throws right-handed, but bats left-handed like Ted Williams, and always swings for distance and power—during a 179-game schedule that the team played in 1953, Mike hit 85 home runs, and led his team in batting, too, with an average of .412.

The other player who broke the sixty mark is Eddie Feigner, the "King" in The King and His Court, often referred to as the "King of Softball," and for good reason—for besides hitting 81 home runs, and holding a batting average of over .350, he pitched 178 complete games, striking out 3,054 batters and over 500 of them while blindfolded.

Eddie will demonstrate the pitching form that you have seen and read about in Life and other national magazines, and whom you may have seen on TV and in news reels. He pitches blindfolded with only a two-man infield and no outfield, and one of the infielders stands by his side to catch the ball when thrown back from the catcher.

Come and see why the National Softball Congress voted Eddie "All American" at the World Tournament in Salt Lake City in September, 1953.

Senators Rally To Beat Athletics 5-4 In Thriller

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Washington Senators overcame a four-run Philadelphia lead Tuesday to edge the Athletics 5-4 as Frank Shea won his second game of the season. Ed FitzGerald's eighth-inning single drove in the winning run before one of Washington's smallest baseball crowds ever—460.

The game between the American League's 6th and 7th place clubs was played in 95-degree weather. Shea, who lost eight straight before winning his first game, stopped the Athletics on two hits in six innings of relief work. Shea entered the game after Connie Marrero was rocked for three runs in the third.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Glenn Scobey (Pop) Warner of football coaching fame died Tuesday. He was 83.

He died of months with throat cancer. Warner became unconscious 12 hours before his death.

At his hospital bedside were his wife, the former Tibb Loraine Smith; a niece Mrs. Jane Warner; Scofield of Seattle, and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Winkelman of Palo Alto.

Winkelman, a longtime friend, was assistant coach when Warner coached his famed Stanford University teams.

Warner recently requested that any contributions be sent to the Damon Runyan Cancer Fund, rather than spent for flowers, upon his death.

Funeral plans were not announced immediately.

Warner was graduated in 1894 from Cornell University with a bachelor of law degree.

But he also played guard and was captain of the 1893 Cornell football team, and served as unpaid coach when he was 22.

He gave up law practice after only a few months and turned to football. His gridiron strategy gained him fame as he turned out winning combinations at several colleges.

He coached at Carlisle Indian School and his pupils included the great Jim Thorpe, and Charles (Chief) Bender of baseball pitching fame.

The University of Pittsburgh hired Warner away from Carlisle after the 1914 campaign. He subsequently coached at several schools and his football career ended in 1940, after 47 years, when he was advisory coach at San Jose State College.

Warner's fabulous football coaching career spanned parts of two centuries—from the Gay '90s to the strife-borne years leading into World War II.

Shaggy-haired, gruff-spoken, he

This Year's Spartan Team Should Finish In Nation's Top Ten

By ROBERT E. VOGES

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Michigan State can be expected to remain among the top 10 when the nation's football powers are tested this fall.

The Spartans were the Big Ten co-champion and Rose Bowl victor last season and were rated third in the AP poll as the season ended.

There's a new head coach on the scene, Hugh (Duffy) Daugherty, longtime assistant to Clarence (Biggie) Munn, now MSC athletic director.

Michigan State still has the horses especially in the line. So Daugherty, a relaxed, friendly Irishman, is quietly confident.

"We'll do all right," Daugherty said. "In some ways, we'll be stronger than last year because our players have become accustomed to the single platoon system."

Daugherty had 20 lettermen returning among the varsity squad of 70 invited for fall practice. His first string line, from end to end, is solid with seniors, three of them Rose Bowl starters.

The backfield is the only place Michigan State is hurting. Only left half Leroy Bolden, leading ground-gainer last year, is returning from the group of "pony" backs that sparked MSC to win 32 of its last 33 games.

At quarterback, Michigan State will alternate Earl Morrill, a capable passer, and John Matsock, a running back who specializes in split T plays.

When he isn't calling plays, Matsock will be teamed with Bolden at halfback. A former back with the Trieste U. S. Army champions, Jerry Planutis will be at fullback to complete the No. 1 backfield.

Daugherty will continue with Munn's multiple offense system. Michigan State will be a ground power again this season and will concentrate on trying to grind out the yardage by alternating fresh sets of backs.

The Spartans open Sept. 25 against Iowa, coached by Forest Evashevski, another former Munn assistant.

Ray Eliot Makes Four Promotions

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Four minor promotions were made in the Illinois football squad Tuesday as Coach Ray Eliot stressed line blocking and passing in a scrimmage.

Sophomores John Gremer, tackle, and Ralph Nelson, guard, were promoted to the third string from the fourth. Halfbacks Mel Nuss and Rella McMullen, also sophomores, were given fourth string status after being with the reserves.

2341 OFFSPRING—A record-breaking daddy lives in Columbus, Ohio. He's Tayeh, a champion Siamese cat, owned by Mrs. Willis N. Hostetter, above. He's sired 2341 offspring. In his 11 years, largely due to his prolific qualities, he's seen his breed grow from a rarity to a common variety. So wild is he that it was necessary to give him a sedative to get him to pose for the photo above.

QUICK CHANGE—Jeannie Johnson, 19, left, had everything to be "Miss Chicago" except one thing—she wasn't officially a Chicagoan. As a result she had to turn the crown over to Reggie Dombek, right. Officials said Jeannie didn't have the required six months' residence when she won the contest.

Barbara Black Bride Sunday Of Quincy Man

A lovely late summer wedding Sunday afternoon at 2:30 united in marriage Miss Barbara Jean Black of Jacksonville and Second Lieutenant Robert Leonard Lutz of Quincy. The double ring rites were read by the Reverend Leslie G. Heuston at the Central Christian church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd L. Black of East Morton Road and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Lutz, Quincy, Ill.

The church altar was banked with ferns surrounding the lighted cross with baskets of white glads in the foreground and branched candelabra with white tapers lending soft candlelight during the nuptials. The candles were lighted preceding the ceremony by Russell Gross, Jr. of Macomb and Richard Dix of Quincy.

James Welch sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly" and during the ceremony, "The Lord's Prayer," with organ accompaniment by Mrs. Francis Angel who also played the traditional wedding marches.

Miss Betty Black was her sister's maid of honor. Mrs. James Marghella of Quincy, sister of the bridegroom, was the second attendant and Miss Joyce Black, another sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. Little Linda Marghella of Quincy, niece of the bridegroom, was the flower girl.

The bridegroom was attended by his brother, Marvin Lutz of Quincy, as best man. Robert Black, brother of the bride, was groomsmen and another brother of the bride, James Black, was junior groomsmen. The ushers were Russell Gross, Jr., Macomb, Richard Dix and James Lutz, both of Quincy and the latter a brother of the bridegroom and Paul Peterson of Virginia. Melvin Black, cousin of the bridegroom, was ring bearer.

The men in the wedding party wore navy blue suits and white carnation boutonnières. The ring bearer wore a navy blue jacket with white trousers and a white chrysanthemum boutonniere. The bridegroom wore his dress officers uniform.

Wears Embroidered Organza

The bride wore a lovely floor length gown of embroidered nylon organza over heavy satin. The snug fitted bodice was accented with ruffled net over which a short jacket with elbow length sleeves was worn. A dust ruffle of net protected the full embroidered organza skirt scalloped at the hemline. Her finger-tip length veil of sheer illusion fell from a crown of lace. She carried a lace covered Bible together with a purple throat orchid corsage.

The attendants to the bride were gowned in identical styles and color. Their lavender net dresses had triple flounce skirts and the strapless bodices were worn with brief net jackets with mandarin collars. The maid of honor carried a colonial bouquet of yellow glads with a headress of yellow chrysanthemums. The other attendants carried colonial style bouquets of orchid and white glads tied with yellow ribbon and headresses of orchid colored chrysanthemums.

The little flower girl wore a floor length gown of white with lavender bows on the skirt. She carried a basket trimmed with orchid and yellow ribbons and filled with white rose petals. She wore a headband of orchid chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Black, mother of the bride, wore navy blue with matching color accessories for her daughter's wedding. Her corsage was of white chrysanthemums. Mrs. Lutz, mother of the bridegroom, wore rose color with black trim and black accessories. Her corsage was of white chrysanthemums also.

Receive At Bride's Home

Mr. and Mrs. Black entertained at a reception following the wedding at their home east of the city. Yellow and orchid were attractively carried out in the decorative color combination. The white frosted three tiered wedding cake was topped with a wedding bell and had been baked by Mrs. Ray Bourn. The table centerpiece was of white, orchid and yellow chrysanthemums with lighted tapers on either side. Yellow tinted punch with yellow and white mints were served with the bride's cake to the guests. Assisting were Miss Delores Holloway, cutting cake, and assisted by Mrs. Russell Gross, Jr., Macomb. Others assisting at the reception, all aunts of the bride, were Mrs. Clarence Black, Mrs. Harold Black and Mrs. Charles Adams of Jacksonville; Mrs. Harry Allen, Springfield; Mrs. Lewis E. Smith of Quincy. All wore corsages of chrysanthemums.

When the couple left for Houston, Texas the bride was wearing smoky blue chromspin acetate dress with black accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Lutz graduated from the Jacksonville high school in 1951, attended the Hardin Browns Business College, where she is a member of the Alpha Iota sorority and until her marriage was employed at the Jacksonville Savings and Loan Association.

The bridegroom graduated from the Quincy high school in 1949 and from the University of Illinois in 1954.
